Some residents can't get enough water to take a bath during the day or even at night . . . Cooperation is the only answer to solving this problem . . . A water shortage can be a serious thing . . . You can turn your sprinklers on after 7:00 p. m., but please not before . . .

Brother of Local Resident Expires

He was the son of the late Edwina Seal and F. C. Bordages of Bay St. Louis . . . He is survived by his wife, the former Maude Spears of San Antonio, and two sisters, Mrs. Emile Toca and Miss Bordages . . .

—Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Nelson, formerly of Shreveport, visited his mother, Mrs. Nellie Nelson last weekend. They were enroute to Tampa, Fla., where they will make their home in the future . . .

District Attorney Boyce Hollemann has called for a "clean-up" of five establishments along the Hancock-Pearl River County line regarding "the frequent violations of the law against the sale of intoxicating liquor and gambling."

The district attorney said that Hancock County Sheriff John Egloff had agreed to cooperate with him in the clean-up of these places, which were unnamed . . .

Hollemann said that if necessary he would ask assistance from the Mississippi National Guard to "restore law and order" in that area . . .

Hollemann said he had written letters to three local law enforcement officers in the concerned areas, advising them as to what his policy as district attorney is to conditions in the area . . .

Letters were written to Judge Douglas Seal, Beat Two Justice of the Peace, Hancock County; Eli Alsobrooks, Beat Two Constable; and Harlan Dean, Beat One Constable, Pearllington, according to Hollemann . . .

A conference was held last Wednesday between Hollemann and Sheriff Egloff about conditions that existed along the Hancock-Pearl River line, where, Hollemann asserted, "certain notorious establishments have been operating for some time."

"A constant stream of patients to the doctor's office in Poylune" has been passing from the establishments, the district attorney stated, to be "sewed-up as a result of beating and brawls."

Hollemann said that he had petitions signed by several hundred citizens of the area and that he had held personal conferences with large groups, regarding the conditions. "They report to me," he added, "that teen-agers are being made victims of these conditions."

"I intend to restore law and order in the communities," he declared . . . Steps have been taken, according to Hollemann, to make "absolutely certain" that "razzle-dazzle" games which he contended have been operating in Hancock County, be "terminated immediately."

He added that such practice on "visiting tourists to our state will not be tolerated."

In the letter to Constable Dean, Hollemann stated that he understood there are still operating in Beat One of Hancock County certain gambling games, "known and commonly called Razzle-Dazzle."

The letters to Judge Seal and Constable Alsobrooks were in regard to the alleged violation of the law concerning the sale of intoxicating liquor and gambling. The letters said that the violations had been reported to him by citizens of the area . . .

He said that he wanted his policy as district attorney of the Second Judicial District to be understood . . .

Dean was informed that these games will not be tolerated and that Hollemann would use the full force of his office to see that they are not permitted to run . . .

The district attorney stated in each letter that he was "a great believer in local self-government. Hollemann, offered the help of his office in assisting Dean to prosecute those you apprehend as violators of the law."

"I am depending on you to apprehend them," he emphasized . . . An investigation, according to Hollemann, has revealed that local self-government has not functioned fully in the jurisdiction of Constable Alsobrooks and Judge Seal . . .

The cooperation in the enforcement of the law was asked by Hollemann. Failing this, he said that he will resort to Chancery and Circuit Courts and to the grand jury . . .

"If local self-government fails, then I shall ask assistance from the Mississippi National Guard to restore law and order for the people of this community," the district attorney said . . .

Legion Honored

The Clement R. Bontemps Post 139, of Bay St. Louis has received the cup for the greatest proportional increase in membership in the Seventeenth District. The Seventeenth District is composed of the Coast counties and those counties adjoining. The earning of this award proves that the aggressive, energetic activity of the local post is being noticed in the state as well as in the community . . .

Membership is needed to form any organization, but active membership is needed to make it a forceful part of the community. The Legion here has a high proportionate percentage of the eligible veterans in the county. Never before in the history of the local Post has it enjoyed such a high percentage of active members . . .

The American Legion in Hancock County is a vital part of the community. The Legion, not content to sit on its laurels, intends to forge ahead in Veteran Affairs and all affairs that lead toward a better city, county and state. Lucien Kidd, Commander stated. The Fourth of July Celebration Committee met at the Chamber of Commerce office, June 16, with the following present: O. W. Delph, John Scafield, Warren Carver, L. S. Pahlman, Arthur Lolo, cano, representing Lucien Kidd of the American Legion, Mrs. George Horton, Mrs. Leroy Luke and Mrs. Mabel Green . . .

From all reports it is going to be a gala affair with everything that goes to make a picnic - hot dogs, soft drinks, ice cream, water, molasses, cookies and candies that will be sold at the booths . . .

Hill Billy music, entertainment of all kinds for the young and the not too young, climaxed by a fine works display and an excellent speaker, is the program for the celebration to be held on Bay St. Louis' sand beach, this year. The affair is being sponsored by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce . . .

Repair work is under way on the 41-foot section of the Bay St. Louis bridge following the boat crash Thursday night. Mr. S. Hill, resident engineer, reported that the bridge was moving south slowly, and that it was now hoped traffic can be maintained open span when it hits the bridge supports . . .

The incident apparently resulted from an adverse tide, Mr. Hill reported. The damage was confined to the single span, which will require about a week of days to be removed and rebuilt . . .

NO DELAY SEEN
The engineer said this would probably cause no appreciable delay in the proposed opening of the bridge to automobile traffic. It is now hoped traffic can be altered from the present wooden structure to the new four-lane concrete toll bridge by the end of July . . .

"We believe the repair can be worked into our schedule without any trouble because we have the equipment and material already on hand," he said . . .

The two-mile bridge is damaged with the exception of an additional 41 foot span and the repair work. The 100 foot steel draw span has been placed, and machinery is being tested before the span opens for water traffic . . .

PROMOTION SERVICES AT TRINITY CHURCH
On Sunday, June 14, 45 students in the Trinity Episcopal Church school received certificates of promotion which were presented by Dr. Willis Gaylord Clark, rector of the church and superintendent of the Sunday School.

At this time Dr. Clark announced that there would be a Sunday School vacation starting June 21. Classes will not be resumed again until the opening of the Pass Christian Public School.

Dr. Clark thanked his staff of teachers for their faithful services during the year. Teachers include Mrs. Charles Foster, Supervisor and teacher in the kindergarten; Mrs. Lyman Page, pianist and teacher in kindergarten; Mrs. Willis Clark, first grade; Mrs. Ludlow Beach, second grade; Miss Lillie McGehee, third grade; Mrs. Randall Jones, junior high students; Mrs. R. O. Heistand, junior high and senior students.

During the promotion exercises ten prayer books, inscribed on the fly leaf by Dr. Clark, were given to students of the Junior High class.

Special music for the occasion included a song by some of the students: "I Sing a Song of Saints of God," and Mrs. DeWitt Holder sang a song which she composed.

Recognition of services were extended Mrs. Warren Adam, and Work on the new Baptist church is progressing and will be finished in a few weeks.

Mrs. R. J. Ladner and Mrs. Milton Stoufflet are among a group of women entered in a popularity contest sponsored by the Bay Mercantile Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Colson and young sons of Bay St. Louis were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Erskine.

Mr. Earl Saucier, substitute teachers in the school.

WATER SUPPLY LOW IN PASS CHRISTIAN
P. S. Ambler said today that the unusually low water pressure in Pass Christian is due to the drought and the fact that the West-end pump is now worthless.

Mr. Ambler said "A new well will be put down as fast as the laws will allow procedure." He explained that a 3 weeks period is the legal time in which to obtain bids and that as soon as the bid is let it is expected that the well will be ready for service in about two weeks. The plans are to drill a new well on the same location as the present one.

"A rain would help build up pressure," said Mr. Ambler. "In the mean time the Mayor has asked that people conserve water as much as possible."

Heat and lack of moisture has taken a heavy toll with grass and plants throughout Pass Christian, and water pressure is so low, until many citizens with hot water heaters located on the second floor have been without hot water for as long as two weeks.

MISS LILLIE MCGEEHEE BUYS HOUSE AND LOT
Miss Lillie McGehee, librarian in the Pass Christian Public High School, recently purchased a lot on Henderson avenue. She plans to have a house, which she purchased at another site, moved to this location.

KENNY TORGESON TO ATTEND CHURCH CAMP
The only representative from the Trinity Episcopal Church to attend church camp at Way, Mississippi this season will be Kenneth Torgeson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Torgeson Jr. Kenneth has served as an altar boy in the church for the past several years and is soon to receive a Scout Award, "God and Country," through this church.

MIKE HEISTAND HAS OUTSTANDING CHURCH RECORD
Young Mike Heistand, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard O. Heistand, received special recognition in the Trinity Episcopal Church, Sunday because of his exceptionally fine record for the year. Mike attended Sunday school throughout the church year with no absences or times tardy. His scholastic record was also excellent.

County Agent's Notes
by HOWARD SIMMONS

PASTURE MANAGEMENT

White Clover seed harvesting time is about here. Cut down the clover when 75 to 80 percent of the seed heads are dark brown. Allow to lie in the swath two or three days, or until the seed can be easily rubbed out with the hands.

Pick up direct from the swath with the pick-up attachment. Then thrash. White Clover seed need not be windrowed unless the swath is mighty thin.

Do not overgraze your pastures. Use any method you like to prevent overgrazing, but prevent it.

Keep the weeds out of your pastures. Use the mowing machine. Raise the mower blade five or six inches above ground. Now is a good time to plant Sudan or millet for temporary summer grazing. These planted in rows will give more grazing than if planted broadcast. For quick growth, use 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre at planting time, and if more grazing is needed later, apply additional 30 pounds.

Do not plant Sudan or millet in the same field. Planted together, these two cannot be properly managed. If both are to be planted on the same farm, be sure that you plant them in separate fields.

SAFETY

Don't spend the summer in the hospital recovering from a preventable accident. Sometimes, accident victims fail to recover at all. Don't take that chance with farm machinery. Stop the machine before working on it. Turn off motor before refueling. Make sure you have grounded before putting fuel in tank. Don't wear loose, floppy clothing when working around machinery; belts, chains and other moving parts tend to catch loose clothing.

INSECT CONTROL

Horn flies cost the farmer money. Don't give them your livestock profits. They will reduce milk production as much as 25 percent on heavily infested cows, and reduce beef gain by at least one half pound a day.

Control these by spraying animals with DDT, toxaphene, or methoxychlor. Ask your County Agent for a free copy of Extension Publication 214, "Control Cattle Pests." It contains all necessary information on controlling these and other cattle insects.

GARDENING

Mulching your long season vegetable crops will make for higher production and less work. A mulch holds moisture in the soil, helps keep down grass and weeds. Mulch adds organic matter to the soil, helps prevent erosion by breaking the force with which rain drops strike the soil, lessens packing by hard rains, slows water run-off and helps to prevent the forming of a crust on the soil.

Almost any material that will cover the ground can be used for a mulch. Cheap straw, old hay, pine needles, corn stalks, sawdust or even cardboard may be used. Grass clippings or weeds cut along roadsides may be used, if they have not formed mature seed.

Report from Boys State

The Hancock County Delegates to Boys State, under the auspices of the American Legion, Joe B. Burrows, Jr., and Thomas E. Schafer III have returned. Reports from Jackson indicate that Hancock County was well represented by these able delegates.

Boys State is a complete State Government in miniature. Participation in Boys State teaches representatives from all over the State a great deal concerning the inner operation of a State Government. Since delegates to Boys State are selected for scholastic proficiency and general intelligence it is obvious that these are the future leaders in the State and government.

Attendance at Boys State gives these future leaders valuable experience in leadership and statesmanship. The American Legion's interest in Boys State is to insure a continuance of Americanism in the future. The American way of life, based on liberty and justice, is the only way to a better future.

The delegates to Boys State are the future leaders of the State. They will be the future leaders of the State. They will be the future leaders of the State.

Legion Co-Operates With City

A vexing problem has been solved by the co-operation of the American Legion and city officials. The lack of public comfort stations along the beach has been a problem for a number of years.

The Legion was happy to allow the Health Authorities to direct the public to use its free clean, rest rooms at the head of Washington Street. Signs have been placed at several points along the beach directing the public to the location of this free public comfort station provided by the American Legion.

The American Legion Club attendant, Ed Atkinson, stated that it is not necessary to go through the club to reach the rest rooms. Entrance can be gained through a rear door from the Legion Free Public Pier.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Artigues were Miss Bertha Artigues, Mrs. Ward Artigues and children, Suzanne and Bert, of New Orleans.

Over 1/2 of all farm products purchased by brewers go back to the farmers as cattle feed. These by-products of beer are an important feed supplement, high in protein value.

The Continental Congress included a quart of beer per day in rations for soldiers of the American Revolution.

Most breweries are locally owned and operated and 97 states in the union have one or more breweries.

The Mississippi tax on malt beverages is the highest of any in the 48 states. The beer industry pays more than $4 million a year in Mississippi taxes making it the fifth largest taxpayer in the state. The growth of the beer industry in the Magnolia State is due to increased public acceptance of legally regulated beer as the beverage of moderation.

Band News - Bay High

The Bay High School Band met in Miss Blake's English class before school ended and elected new officers for the coming year of 1953-54. The following were elected:

Keith Tonkel, president; Ronald Maurigl, vice-president; Secretary, Betty Jane Harfield; Treasurer, Mary Alice Helzlsouer; Librarian, Clea Kay Miller and Drum Major, Carlos Arnold.

Saturday May 31, the band held their picnic at Pontchartrain.

Among the Junior Band members the following were promoted to the high school band: Paul Miller, trumpet (4th horn); Perry Patterson, E flat alto saxophone, 2nd chair; he plans to move to Mt. Hernum, La.; Eva Mae Kramer, E flat alto saxophone, 2nd chair; Mildred Ann Parker, Mary Lee Duke, Beverly Schindler, and Doris Estapa, B flat clarinet, 3rd chair.

In averaging the grade for the year these students as a whole finished the year with an average of A to A plus. In order to be admitted to the senior band a beginner must average at least a B for the two years of training or its equivalent. At the end of the year each one played a solo in chapel on the instrument studied.

The director congratulates each and everyone for such diligent initiative. The Band Auxiliary will be happy to have parents with them as new members.

Now that school has ended one would think the band director would think the band director summer vacation, but after seeing how many children, numbering 157, would like to begin an instrument his plans were changed overnight. In other words there will be no vacation for him this summer.

TUNG OIL

Possibly the most beneficial factor to the economy of the rural sections of most South Mississippi counties has been the development of the tung orchards and the tung industry. Beginning about the close of World War I this little industry has steadily grown until today it has become a most important factor in the economy of this section. The cut-over land, on which many of our rural people have tried unsuccessfully to grow cotton and other staple products, has largely come into its own as a result of the introduction of tung nuts as a cash crop. The fact that tung orchards also have served profitably in the development of our cattle and sheep industry has also proved a boon. This has all resulted in making our rural section prosperous and has been a Godsend to our merchants and the general economy of our section.

Tung nuts, originally produced exclusively in Asia, were introduced into this country largely as a result of the fact that our defense program suffered an acute shortage of tung oil in World War I. It can be grown profitably only in a comparatively narrow strip of approximately 100 miles wide bordering on the Gulf of Mexico from Florida to Texas. It is obvious to all that tung can not be produced profitably in competition with the coolie labor of China or the cheap labor of the Argentine. Realizing the necessity, therefore, for some form of Governmental protection, we have labored for the past ten years here in Washington, in conjunction with the tung growers, to secure a two-point program: 1. A support price by Government. 2. Protection of the domestic industry from the flooding of the market, with the resultant depression in prices, by foreign imports.

Due to the obvious fact that the production of tung is confined to such a limited area and therefore does not have much political appeal to the Congress and the Government generally, it has been a hard up-hill fight. However, in a band instrument this summer will find the Band Director in the band room from nine to four o'clock every day Monday through Friday. Whether or not you intend to begin an instrument next year, it would be advisable to take the music aptitude this summer for instrument ability and placement.

1949 we succeeded after a very hard fight in securing Congressional approval, over the opposition of the Department of Agriculture, for a support price. Thanks to this action the farmers are assured of their production bringing 28.5 cents per pound for the oil produced.

But without governmental action in controlling the imports of Chinese and Argentine oil it is doubtful whether we could maintain a support price indefinitely.

On this problem we succeeded only a few months ago in having the Department of Agriculture place quotas upon the importation of this oil under the authority of Section 104 of the Defense Production Act. This Act expires on June 30th of this year. During the past week we made an unsuccessful fight on the floor of the House to extend the benefits of this section. We lost by a vote of 95 to 123. This fight was lost because the President upon the recommendation of the Tariff Commission issued a proclamation the day before the bill was considered placing quotas upon dairy products and competing oils. This resulted in the loss of the support of the members of the House, who represent dairy, flaxseed and the peanut industry, for the contin-

While this is a great blow to the tung industry, we have reason to believe that we may yet receive favorable consideration from the Tariff Commission. Together with the leaders of the tung industry and the department of Agriculture we are working to that end.
